Homework-Based on the discussion today and your knowledge of social conventions, please answer each question with three complete sentences.

1. Why do you think the people of ancient Egypt had a special title for their ruler? Explain.

2. What does that tell us about how Egyptian society was structured?

3. Some people would argue that it is disrespectful for a regular person to address someone like the president by his first name? What makes that disrespectful?

4. Some people would argue that not using the president's title is disrespecting the country and not just the person. DO you agree? Why or why not?
